SUMMARY REPORT

OF THE

Y. M. C. A.

IN THE

ARMY OF OCCUPATION

FOR SIX MONTHS.

AMERICAN

Y.M.C.A.

JUNE 30th, 1919.

COBLENZ ON THE RHINE.
On June 30th, 1919, the Army of Occupation along the Rhine in Germany, by official order, became the "American Forces in Germany". Peace had been signed. The Y. M. C. A. organization travelled with the Army last December from the battle lines in France to the Rhine. Only a small number of workers were allowed to accompany the Army on this march but as soon as conditions became sufficiently established many other workers were sent up, until a total personnel of more than one thousand were on duty with the soldiers. The activities conducted by Y. M. C. A. are indicated in the pages which follow. They can only be hinted at in these reports but they make the foundation for an entirely new chapter in the world's history. It would be difficult to refer to any individual or any department as particularly outstanding or most essential. No secretary in the field could have rendered the service which was given but for the support of every other individual and department in the organization. It is not possible to contemplate the surprising beauty, the homelike touch, the engaging conditions, the inviting surroundings of the many attractive huts on the Rhine without instantly realizing that the warehouse man, the motor driver, the assistant, the lecturer, the religious speaker, the dancer, the singer, the vivacious girl, and the mother in the corner all participated in the effort producing such marvelous results. It was team work that did the trick.

In summing up the results it can again be truthfully said "there is glory enough for all". Every individual made sacrifices and did outstanding work. It would take a separate story concerning each name on the roster to fairly represent personal sacrifices and commendable personal accomplishments.

The general work was organized by Mr. W. W. Gethman as Chief Secretary, who was later succeeded by Mr. J. Campbell Brandon and still later by the compiler of this report. The Religious work found its plan in the imaginations of Dr. Maitland Alexander and Rev. Reid Dickson. But all their associates both in departments and in field secretarial work contributed share and share alike towards the accomplishments which have been achieved by the organization.

The effectiveness of Women's work among the men has been fully demonstrated and is now an unquestioned part of all welfare work with soldiers. This is the unanimous opinion of Commanding Officers so far as interviewed in the Army of Occupation. An enlarged estimate of the religious value of all the departments of Y. M. C. A. should be regarded as an outstanding feature of this work. There are probably very few workers or soldiers who would now minimize the practical religious value of the Educational, Athletic, Entertainment, Music, Hotel, Warehouse, or any other department.

The Association has stood for the fact that whatever a man does should be done with a Christ like spirit, no matter whether he drives an auto, rolls a truck in the warehouse, or builds a hut, or entertains on the stage, or a preacher — all must work together with the Christ like spirit if men are to be bound together by ties of brotherhood.

A high officer in the Army recently stated that in spite of the fact that the soldiers had been in the area for six months under the irksome condition of "watchful waiting" and a longing to go home; nevertheless when the order came, during the latter part of June, to move to the out-posts ready to drive forward into Germany, the soldiers had kept up a fine morale and were ready for the service. This officer gave credit for a large part of this excellent condition to the activities of this organization.

Therefore the brief statements that follow, together with whatever of gratitude that may be forthcoming from loved ones back home, are dedicated to those whose services have made possible the outstanding accomplishments of the Y. M. C. A. in the Army of Occupation.

The Business Department of the Y. M. C. A. in the Army of Occupation has developed into a great mercantile establishment. Within a few weeks after the first units arrived in Germany, a base warehouse was opened at Coblenz and a sub-warehouse at Treves. From these strategic points merchandise was distributed by means of a fleet of auto trucks to the Divisional Warehouses at Coblenz, Neuwied, Sayn, Montabaur, Kottenheim, Niederbreisig, Bernkastel, Bitburg, Esch, Dierkirch.

From these Divisional Warehouses, merchandise was distributed to 487 different Y. M. C. A. units, covering the entire territory occupied by the Army, to the amount of 40,425,621.72 Marks. Of this amount there was sold at cost 31,485,121.00 Marks and distributed free 8,940,500.00 Marks.

Each division was equipped with one or more ice cream plants, to a total of 17 plants with daily output of 7800 litres. The lines of communication back home were kept open by a never-ending stream of letters written on paper bearing the Red Triangle. In this item of paper and envelopes were invested 700,000.00 Marks. Distribution of the Paris edition of American Papers brought the boys in daily touch with the World. The N.Y. Herald, Chicago Tribune, and London Mail were distributed daily to each unit in the Army Area. Beginning June 15th, this service was supplemented by adding the Amarote News, the Army daily paper published in Coblenz. This last paper gave the soldiers up-to-the-minute news, and was a welcome addition to the news service. The total cost of papers, all of which were free, was Mks. 937,500.00. The Athletic Department distributed Prizes and Trophies throughout the Area to the amount of 290,000.00 Marks.

Religious Department.

Rev. J. F. Clokey, Director
C. W. Blakey, Associate Director
Miss Mabel Irving, Secretary.

From first to last thirty-five different centers were covered in the program of religious services. In a number of these places religious services were held every Sunday for six months. There were very few Chaplains in the area, but these for the most part cooperated heartily in the Association religious program. Aside from the Sunday services, special speakers were sometimes available for week night services. March was the best month when the number of services held reached one hundred twenty-seven, with a total attendance of over 25,000.

In March 30,000 copies of religious literature went out from Fest Halle table, including Bibles, Testaments, Prayer Books, Hymn Books, Gospels, Psalms, Courses of Bible Study, pamphlets, leaflets and motto post cards. Literature was likewise kept in racks or on tables in practically every "Y" center. The tons of literature thus distributed attest the men's interest in these things. The demand for new testaments was greater than for any other literature, and this demand continued until the end.

There was an unique celebration of Washington's birthday on the Rhine, when over one hundred American soldiers sat down to a Bible Study Banquet on board the S. S. "Elisa," one of the boats in the "Y" excursion service. There were one or two representatives from nearly every company in the Coblenz area. These men had been eager, fully selected for the purpose of promoting Bible Study in their respective companies. A special course had been prepared and published by the area director. About fifty classes resulted.

Mother's Corner in some huts was one of the honey spots in the Army of Occupation. On Mother's Day, a souvenir leaflet was published with a picture of a "Corner" on the cover. A letter to the mothers at home and two poems on "Mother" completed the folder. These folders were used in the whole Army of Occupation.

During June the Department had about 19 itinerant speakers, also about 15 singers who conducted the music of the services. The regular program for this department had to be changed to meet army conditions, preparatory to their arranged advance into Germany.

The religious and other workers accompanied the troops to the front, ministering to the men wherever possible.

On Sunday night June 30th, the work in the Fest Halle at Coblenz was brought to a close with one of the most remarkable services ever held in that building. This building was turned back to the German population, and activities formerly conducted there were transferred to Victory and Liberty Huts nearby, to be continued to the end of American Army Occupation.

The following figures give an estimate of one month's work in this department:

Entertainment in the Army of Occupation commenced December 14th, 1918 when Mr. E. D. Cray, formerly Entertainment Director of the Verdun Area, arrived in Coblenz, bringing with him the first entertainment unit, "Hunting and Francis". Mr. Cray became Director of Entertainment for the Y. M. C. A. in the Army of Occupation. He was succeeded in March by Mr. E. B. Thrush, who was in turn succeeded by Mr. T. Chalmers Duff.

During the period of about six months in which entertainment was furnished there was a total of 273 professional parties playing for varying periods of time, giving a total of 2,719 performances.

During the early days it was impossible to arrange and maintain a schedule, due to lack of halls, lights, transportation facilities, etc., but even during that time more than 340 performances were given.

The first entertainment was given by the Hunting and Francis unit December 17th, 1918, at Gesellenhaus Hospiz (Old German Soldiers' Home, No. 6 Gerichis Strasse, Coblenz).

It was during this period that the plan of producing soldier talent shows was put into effect. This form of entertainment became very popular and a total of 146 soldier talent troupes have been organized and played in this area. They included a total of 138 officers and 2,966 men and gave 4935 performances. Training and costuming for these actors was provided for through Y. M. C. A. departments created for this purpose. The proportions to which this activity reached is indicated in the following from the report of the Costume Department.

A Music Department was organized through which large quantities of band and orchestral instruments, pianos, etc., were provided and many thousands of copies of sheet music, together with scores for orchestras were furnished, some of the music being arranged and printed from the words of original songs composed by members of the Army.

A vast amount of work was required to equip properly many of the halls in the small German villages and outposts. Stages were constructed, drop curtains and scenery painted, electric lights installed, and heating appliances furnished in a large proportion of the 544 show houses which were finally put in operation.

At many points where halls were not available, large Y. M. C. A. huts were erected and equipped with stage and properties.

Athletic Department.

Headquarters Staff.

C. W. Knebel, Director
L. W. Riess, Associate Director
E. S. Bronnon, Boxing Promoter
L. T. Uromley, Baseball Promoter
Miss Anita Fairgrieve.

The Athletic Department, working in conjunction with the Army instituted a programme which has practically reached every man in the Army of Occupation. In addition to mass games which have been extensively promoted, there have been basketball, base ball and track, culminating in A. O. and A. E. F. championships. Boxing has been given special attention, resulting in some splendid bouts staged at various places. With the coming of warm weather the outdoor programme has been extended. Track and field meets have been held in connection with army carnivals. Practically all arrangements for these various meets have been made by the Y. M. C. A. Prizes have been furnished by Y. M. C. A. and most of the Divisional teams have been coached by Y. M. C. A. directors.

One interesting branch of the work of this department has been the athletic activities for convalescents, carried on to a greater extent at the General Hospital at Treves than elsewhere.

The Athletic programme as a whole was made possible by the very liberal supply of athletic material provided by Y. M. C. A. as indicated in the following table.

It was not until April 15th, 1919, that the Y. M. C. A. in the Third Army began a serious effort to promote formal boxing shows. Until this time these activities were in charge of the Army Athletic Officer and were largely confined to the elimination tournament for the selection of boxers to represent the Third Army in the A. E. F. championships held in Paris during May.

After the conclusion of the tournament the Y. M. C. A. boxing promoter in consultation with the Army Entertainment Officer, arranged for the formal promotion of boxing bouts to be held at different points. The area occupied was large and transportation for contestants and the number of high class performers necessary for the enterprise were difficult to obtain. A careful search revealed the fact that there were a large number of men who had been professional boxers in the States.

The Y. M. C. A. adopted a policy of offering purses. A regular scale of prices was fixed, depending upon the size of the show, the ability of the boxers and the number of rounds. Where it was necessary the Y. M. C. A. furnished money to equip training quarters.

Being the leave area for the entire Army, Coblenz naturally became the center of the biggest cards. Liberty Hut, built especially for this purpose, on the grounds of the Palace formerly owned by the ex-Kaiser, was used for these shows. With a capacity of over four thousand, the hut was always crowded to the limit.

The following summary shows the total number of bouts staged at all points in the Army of Occupation.

No. Shows, 82;  No. Bouts, 463;  No. Spectators, 254,100.
MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

The Music Department of the Y. M. C. A. in the A. of O, was formed for the purpose of providing music and musical instruments for the soldier-talent shows and the men of the A. of O; and to furnish such facilities as would awaken greater interest in singing as a recreation and entertainment.

Music has been furnished in unlimited quantities; orchestras, shows and Y huts have been equipped with musical instruments; charts for mass-singing have been provided; and a campaign for the encouragement and promotion of singing as a pastime has been carried on.

A close alliance has been maintained with both the Religious Work and the Educational Departments,—with the former by arranging and furnishing talent for religious services; with the latter by proposing and equipping with musical instruments the Y. M. C. A.-Army Music School.

The cinema machine has been with the Army of Occupation since they started on their long trail through Germany to the Rhine. The cinema entertainment is almost without exception the most popular form of entertainment among the soldiers.

Rhine Valley Leave Area Department.

W. D. Wilcox, Director
R. R. Souder, Business Secretary
H. L. Fehrney, Auditor
Miss G. E. Russell, Secretary

One of the largest and busiest and most important parts of the Y. M. C. A. work in the A. E. F. has been its leave area activities. These leave centers had been successfully operated in a large number of places in France prior to our occupancy of Germany, and soon after the American Army had become somewhat settled in the Rhine-land district, leave centers were started here. The first was at Coblenz and consisted in the several uses of the Festhalle, free meals in the several American-operated restaurants, and trips on the Rhine, both up and down the river.

The next leave to be opened was one for the 42nd Division and for this purpose the beautiful Kur- haus, rechristened “Casino” by the Y. M. C. A. was opened early in February in the all-known bath resort town of Neuenahr. A distinctive feature of the Neuenahr Casino was that all of the activities were under the one roof, except later, when the summer allowed the use of the many grounds for baseball, tennis, etc., and a large outdoor swimming pool, beside the outside baths erected by Germany after the style of the Roman baths.

After the 42nd Division went home, the one-day leaves in force for that Division were substituted by three-day leaves, and the Casino was operated for the 4th Corps and later as a 4th Division leave area until the close of all leave work in the latter part of May.

A large leave center with many activities was opened at Trier and many thousands of soldiers used the facilities there provided. Trier, according to legend, was settled some 1200 years before Rome and this historic town has many places of interest to the Americans.

The ancient town of Andernach on the Rhine had also one of the most complete leave center huts, beside a splendid cafeteria, reading rooms, etc. Neuwied, on the right bank of the Rhine, became the 3rd Corps leave center and was the delight of the officers and men of all the units who had their Rhine leaves there. The Andernach hut was dedicated on April 26th, and was officially accepted by Secretary of War Baker.

The leave work at Coblenz was further augmented in the middle of April when the Victory and Liberty huts were dedicated, the former as a recreation hut and the latter as a very large cafeteria, which holds the record of supplying 7000 meals in one day.

One of the most popular activities in the 3rd Army leave area has been the boat excursions on the Rhine. The American soldiers not only enjoyed the beautiful scenery of this old river, which is surrounded with legend and history but there was present also the sentiment, surrounding the unusual conditions by which the American soldiers were there. The food for the meals at all these leave centers, so far as the ration proper were concerned was supplied by the Army, and the Y. M. C. A. furnished the extra food and the service, music, and all other expenses incident to the successful operation of these resorts of pleasure for the men.

The activities in the main in which the men participated mostly, in the various leave centers total approximately the following:

Uniform Department.

Miss Anne Carter.

This Department for the past month has been operating as part of the Salvage Department. It has served a two fold purpose, in that it has made it possible for the "Y" secretaries to get clothing of better quality and at a lower cost than otherwise would have been possible. Then when the Soldiers were given the freedom of the Department prior to its closing out, he in turn was able to buy salvaged and new articles of clothing much superior to the issued equipment. The Department has been more appreciated in Germany than ever it was in France, for the German shops have not been in a position to meet the needs of the Americans as well as our French Allies have done.

The Men's Uniform Department has been a great convenience to the men but the Women's Uniform Department has been a vital necessity to the women secretaries, both in France and in Germany, for Europe is not the place for ready made sport clothes for women. Notwithstanding the necessity for this Department there was none organized in Germany until late this spring. This Department has also turned over all stock to Salvage. All dresses, suits, capes, coats etc. turned in by the women have been sent to Paris where they are cleaned and disposed of to the French and Belgians, for their refugees.

Transportation Department.

O. A. Hopper Director
A. B. Eckerson Superintendent of Garage
John Fredricksen Superintendent of Repair Garage
R. N. Ogden Asst. Superintendent of Garage
E. E. Lane Asst Director
Grace M. Turton Office Secretary.

The Transportation Department has had a very heavy programme to put over which has been of such vital importance that without it or with it partially crippled the whole organization would have been helpless.

The many cars kept up by this Department have been of all kinds, sizes and conditions. To add to the general difficulties the base of supplies for a long time was Paris and even now it is very hard to keep supplies ahead at the Coblenz base, that all emergencies may be met.

Educational Department.
The splendid work started in this department was continued vigorously and with great expansion until the middle of April at which time the entire department together with its personnel was taken over by the Army.

Newspaper Department.
E. H. Beede, Director.

This department distributed daily the Paris edition of N. Y. Herald, Chicago Tribune, Daily Mail and the Army Newspaper, Amaroe News, to every division and to many scattered units separated from Divisions. No other service rendered by Y. M. C. A. was apparently more enjoyed by the soldiers than through this department, receiving the daily papers.
Salvage Department.

Headquarters Staff.

J. S. Long, Director
S. B. Tarrant, General Field Secretary
Charles E. Wyer, Sales Manager (May)
Ida E. C. Hallquist, Office Secretary
Eddy Starr, Sales Manager (June)
Charles S. Hall, Auditor
Mabel H. Greenidge, Office Secretary

Because of the rapidity with which the American troops moved homeward the closing up of the Y. M. C. A. activities became imperative and in order to effect the best possible results and conserve Y. M. C. A. property it was deemed advisable to place the business part of several departments directly under the Salvage Department. This further was in accord with action taken at Y. M. C. A. General Headquarters in Paris. In conformity with this policy the Construction Department, Equipment Department, and Purchasing Department became a part of the Salvage Department on May 13th; the Music Department, Costume Department and Women's Uniform Department were merged with the Salvage Department on May 21st, 1919. This change did not affect the activities of these departments, which continued as before but all business of each of these Departments functioned wholly through the Salvage Department.

The divisions and locations completely salvaged during May and June are as follows: 89th, 90th, 5th, 6th. The Trier Leave Area was completely salvaged and the following locations in Coblenz: Union Restaurant, Engels Hotel, Park Hotel, Leseverein, Fest Halle, Little Play House and Y Officers Club.

Salvage has been partially completed in the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Divisions with men now actively in the field in each division. The work has also been partially completed in the Coblenz Area.

All material not known to have a ready sale in Germany was shipped rapidly, as salvage, directly to Paris.

The Paris shipments for the two months were, for May 14 cars, and June 9 cars, total 23 cars.

The total sales for May and June of the Salvage Department amounted to $7,262,116.73 Marks.

Warren T. Hanley, Director.

During the Months that the Hotel Department has been operating in Coblenz 1,178,804 meals have been served at the various places run by the Y. M. C. A. for that purpose.

This Department has had an immense proposition to handle that figures have very little bearing on it. It has had to depend upon the U. S. Commissary for its main food supply as no supplies could be obtained from the German market for many months. The food was good but very limited in variety and quantity. Then the servant staff had to be German and this didn't tend to simplify matters.

The following list gives the names of the places for meals that were maintained by the Y. M. C. A. in Coblenz: Union Restaurant, Alter Franziskaner, Kath. Leseverein, Officers Club, Park Hotel, Monopole Hotel. Bahnhof Hotel, Festhalle, Soldatenheim, Hotel Engel and Victory Hut.

The Hut Construction Department came into existence about the middle of February when material at last arrived for the construction of these necessary buildings. The total number of huts provided by the Y. M. C. A. in the Army of Occupation has been 31.

The following report gives some idea of the location and size of these huts:

Huts 10×30 meters:

Klotten  Rheinbrohl  Gladbach  Dierdorf
Pommer   Waldbreitbach  Kesselheim  Remagen
Buchel   Niederbieber  Neendorf  Hillscheid
Niederbreitbach  Selters  Rubenach  Kruft (2)

Hut 16×36 meters: Bitburg

Huts 20×45 meters:

Andernach  Polch  Vallendar  Brohl
Kottenheim  Wittlich  Dernbach

2 Huts 20×54 with 10×30 meter “L” at Coblenz.

With the beginning of the campaign last fall in the United States for funds for welfare work, it was stated that the Y. M. C. A. huts in the A. E. F. would be named for states going over the top. In this connection the following list is printed, giving the name of the state and the place in the Army of Occupation where such huts were erected:

Arizona  Wittlich
Connecticut  Andernach
Delaware  Bitburg
Mississippi  Klotten
New Mexico  Dernbach
North Carolina  Brohl
Nevada  Kottenheim
Tennessee  Remagen
Texas  Vallendar
Utah  Polch

There has been no work less spectacular than that of these warehousemen, who before coming to Germany did Y. M. C. A. warehousing through the Ijペペコ campaign where constantly moving conditions with constant rain and mud were the ordinary daily routine. Many have received more praise, but none have done more real service in carrying Y. M. C. A. to the soldiers. Seven days a week, with long hours each day has been the necessity with them in order that the field secretaries might succeed.

The volume of merchandise handled is indicated in the fact that at Trier there were handled 158 carloads. During the one month of March there was distributed from the Trier warehouse, merchandise to the value of 1,355,770 Francs or $248,728. There was handled and delivered to different Divisions and activities from the Coblenz warehouse the following:

Christmas Activities in the Army of Occupation.

The Divisions arrived in Germany about December 13th, 1918. Everything was in great confusion incidental to the movements of troops and arrangement of personnel. However with the opening of Regional Headquarters order emerged out of chaos and with order came the idea to provide some kind of Christmas entertainment for the soldiers.

The difficulties in transportation were almost insurmountable. No freight shipments came through in time and the only supplies to be had came by truck from Paris or were purchased locally. Fortunately Germany is the home of Christmas trees and their decorations. It is needless to say that the Americans were not slow to make the most of this fact.

In each Division an effort was made to carry out some program. No Christmas supplies reached many of the outlying units, as a result some of the celebrations were the most unique in the history of all who participated. But they all radiated Christmas cheer. In some places the refreshments consisted of hot chocolate and chewing tobacco. In Coblenz it was possible to stage a more complete program, the city offering some facilities. Three canteens opened by the 25th of December. “Archers Place”, the Signal Corps Telegraph Barracks and the Leseverein Theater was opened as a reading and writing room. Hot chocolate cakes baked by the Germans, cigarettes and ice cream were distributed to all the men in and around the city. Five professional concert parties and military concert parties operated throughout the area. One canteen in Coblenz served 10,000 free cups of chocolate and 30,000 cakes on Christmas Day.

Welfare and Canteen Work.

The welfare work of the Y. M. C. A., that is the free distribution of chocolate, cigarettes, cakes, cocoa, newspapers, magazines etc., was carried on while the troops were on their way to the Rhine. This was limited owing to the lack of supplies on hand and the impossibility of transporting them in any quantity from the French base. However after the lifting of the embargo on January 20th, supplies came through in larger quantities and the situation was much improved. As the troops became settled in their respective areas, wet canteens opened as rapidly as the personnel would allow. Often the wet canteen was run in connection with the dry canteen or the commissary canteen, chocolate or chocolate and cookies being given away in the evening after the dry canteen was closed.

April 1st, the commissary was taken over by the army, leaving numerous places free for wet canteen work. Then the programme changed, certain hours were set aside for free distribution and the remainder of the time the supplies sold. Doughnuts, pies, cookies, sandwiches, hot and cold drinks appeared, as equipment and supplies became more plentiful. By the end of May there were 334 such canteens in operation.

Early in the war, to avoid duplication it was agreed that only the Red Cross should undertake to serve soldiers in hospitals and at railroad stations. Because of this agreement the Y. M. C. A. has been misunderstood and misunderstood. But when the Red Cross withdrew from this area the Y. M. C. A. was asked to take over as much of their work as possible, immediately the Y began the distribution of ice cream to the patients in Hospitals Nos. 1, 6, 16 Annex, 27 and 49. Free distribution will be continued until the patients are all evacuated. In addition to ice cream there are now being distributed free of charge, the Paris edition of the N. Y. Herald, London Mail and Chicago Tribune, also the Amaroc News, the local daily paper. All soldiers entraining will be supplied free with cigarettes, chocolate, and daily papers.

During the movement of the troops prior to the signing of the Peace Treaty in June, the divisions advancing to the outposts were accompanied by Y. M. C. A. secretaries and served with chocolate, ice cream, cigarettes and daily papers. These were all distributed free during the period of military demonstration as follows:

The Coblenz Area has naturally been the center of "V" activities in the Army of Occupation. Regional headquarters being here, as well as Army headquarters, it was the Mecca of all eyes. Problems as well as opportunities were here met in their largest aspects. Here the Y. M. C. A. started the first Officers' Club in Germany. The first hotels for Officers and enlisted Men were opened here. All-day cinema shows were here tried and found to be a decided success. Pie factories, ice cream plants, the Rhine trips, and other features of the extensive leave area program had initial start in Coblenz. Each venture presented its problems for, although leave areas were common in France and their management well worked out, this was not France. Practically no food stuffs could be bought in German markets and food was the chief demand of the soldier. The "V" was many miles from its base of supplies and equipment. It was one thing to requisition a house or hotel, it was another to make it habitable. To the women first stationed in Coblenz must be given great credit for remarkable work in those early days.

Standing out always in memory will be Archer's Place, Festhalle, Officers' Club, Little Playhouse, Leseverein, Union Restaurant, Monopolie Hotel, Bahnhof Hotel, Liberty and Victory Huts. These huts belong to the last period of the Coblenz history and their activities are bringing to a fitting close the work so splendidly organized.

With a small personnel Y. M. C. A. came with this Division into Germany doing what it could to secure supplies for the men and giving cinema shows with a portable machine wherever and whenever possible.

On the 14th of December the "Y" arrived with the troops at Montabaur. Here locations were established at nine points increasing to twenty in a very short time. Each point was a centre for the distribution of supplies.

On February 1st there was a personnel of twenty-eight workers covering sixteen points. By April there were twenty-seven points being covered. One hundred and eighty men and thirty-five women were in the service of the 1st Division "Y" from 1917 to 1919 and of this number only twelve were with it a year. This situation, always unavoidable, nevertheless throws light on one of the many difficulties of perfecting a working force.

The problem of equipment in this Division was unlike other divisions in that the 1st Division as a rule was first in each area occupied so that its work was pioneer most of the time.

It was an impossible task to supply 25,000 men with all the canteen supplies they wanted, especially in the early days in Germany, but usually there was a fair amount always available for distribution or sale. Serving hot drinks was always an important feature of the "Y" work in this Division and in practically every hut hot cocoa, tea and coffee might be had. Especial stress was laid upon this work during the entraining and movement of troops.

Before soldiers showed were developed the only source of entertainment was an occasional local show or stunt night or professional group. These entertainers spent several days in the Division giving from two to three performances a day. The work done by both soldiers and professional entertainers throughout the Division was splendid.

Last but by no means least comes the Cinema Entertainment. Over 265 shows were given during the month of June in the Division, fourteen machines being used to put across the programme. A similarly large number of shows were given during the other months.

The Religious Department in cooperation with the Army provided religious meetings often with eminent speakers, and distributed Bibles and miscellaneous good reading material. The hymn books used generally throughout the Division were provided by the Y. M. C. A. In three instances Y. M. C. A. secretaries who were clergymen were, at the request of the commanding officers, made acting chaplains of regiments or battalions.

The 1st Division had two secretaries killed in action, four wounded and two gassed.

On the march to the Rhine, secretaries attached to units hiked with their outfits. During the stay in Luxemburg, through the kindness of the Second Ammunition Train ten trucks were sent to France for canteen supplies and distributed before entry into Germany.

After settlement in the Second Divisional area, canteens and reading rooms were established at twenty-four points and supplies were distributed to thirteen additional points where troops were stationed. Extra effort was made to reach those doing outpost duty. Where it was impossible to find buildings suitable for the work, huts and tents were erected. Dance halls, cafes, and private dwellings turned over by the Army were painted, papered and decorated, stages built and electric lights installed.

All the regular hut equipment was installed at each point. German moving picture machines were used in a number of cases and portable machines were necessary so that motion pictures might be seen throughout the division.

Professional talent was scheduled regularly, also educational and religious lectures. Y. M. C. A. provided costumes, make-up material and musical instruments for the soldier talent shows. In addition, musical instruments were given to any company or group who wished to form an orchestra.

For the three months previous to the date when the Army took over the canteen "Y" sold Franges 1,568,143.02 worth of supplies. During the same period, the value of free distribution was Franges 88,019.31.

Every man received a Christmas box consisting of two packages of cigarettes, one package of tobacco, two cakes of chocolate and one package of gum. Owing to congestion of rail traffic, these were not delivered until January.

The amount of money sent through Y. M. C. A. by the men, for which no charge was made by Y. M. C. A., amounted to an average of Franges 466,000 per month.

The American Library Association furnished about two thousand books which were circulated in all Y. M. C. A. reading rooms. Magazines distributed monthly numbered about six thousand, and daily newspapers about six thousand.

The educational work, organized shortly after arrival in Germany, was supervised by educational Y. M. C. A. secretaries, the classes being taught by Army men.

Religious work was done in co-operation with the chaplains, Y. M. C. A. supplying singers and speakers for units having no chaplains, or separated from their outfits.

Some idea of the athletic work may be gathered from the following statistics of a few items distributed:

In as much as the work accomplished was done with 40% personnel, 30% transportation, and 40% supplies it is felt that in spite of these handicaps the record of the Association in the Second Division will not suffer under the most thorough investigation.

A number of secretaries have been cited for military decorations. Two have received the Distinguished Service Cross, four the Croix de Guerre, one was killed in action and three were wounded.

In the area of the 3rd Division on the Rhine the Y. M. C. A. established canteens and reading rooms at twenty-eight points. Where places could not be rented or requisitioned, huts were built; every effort was put forth to make all Y canteens as attractive as possible, posters and chintz could

The activities at the various points included moving pictures, dances, plays, with both soldier and professional talent, also religious and educational lectures.

Much attention was given to all forms of athletics especially to boxing. Splendid bounts were staged at Andemarck and at other central points throughout the Division.

During the first few months of occupation dry canteens were maintained in all Y. M. C. A.'s, but these disappeared after April 1st when the Army took over all commissary work.

The wet canteens now started on a much larger scale. Ice cream became a very important feature in this Division. There were four factories maintained, and about 3000 liters of cream was produced daily.

Many German bakeries were taken over, the Y furnishing the needed materials and the Germans producing the needed doughnuts, cookies, cakes etc to be used in the canteens.

The high water mark of the Division was reached in the month of May when everything was in full operation. During this month there were 250 cinema shows, 66 religious services and 310 entertainments of various kinds outside of the cinema. There were eight permanent cinema machines and eight portable ones being used in the Division as rapidly as possible. There were twenty-eight athletic fields in almost constant use.

Of the thirty Y. M. C. A.'s in the division five were housed in large huts built especially for that purpose.

On Monday June 16th to the following Monday inclusive an extensive maneuver was executed by the 3rd Field Artillery Brigade of the Division. There was an opportunity to test the ability of the Y to follow up. Plans were carefully made and worked out so successfully that the entire Brigade had supplies and daily papers for the week. Sometimes distribution was done in the fields where the men were camped, sometimes on the line of march and then again where ever men were held up for orders etc. On Sunday the Religious Department were represented by several groups of speakers and singers who held services with the men wherever they were found to be stopping long enough to hear the services.

About 20,000 marks a day were spent for the supplies given away during this week.
At other times the 3rd Division spent on the average about 90,000 francs a month for free distribution.
Andernach, the leave area for the Division, was the seat of many and varied activities. Its leave hut and cafeteria are now famous. The former for its attractiveness and its atmosphere of hospitality; the latter for its good meals and splendid service. A report for a single month's work at Andernach will perhaps give a better idea of the variety and extent of the activities of this particular leave area than could be given in any other way and may be summarized as follows:

Meals to Permissionaries 90, number fed 30,896
Indoor entertainments 206, total attendance 74,637
Hikes and Sightseeing trips 19, total attendance 1,800
Educational lectures 6, total attendance 1,800
Religious services 4, total attendance 1,500.

The personnel at first was small but as more workers arrived in Germany, the staff of the Third Division increased until with the opening of Andernach Leave Area there were seventy-seven workers, fifty-two of these being women.

On the trip through Germany to the Mosel and Rhine, where the Fourth Division spent the first three months, the Y. M. C. A. though very badly handicapped by the lack of transportation made a superhuman effort to reach the different units of the division with hot chocolate and what dry canteen supplies were available.

After the settlement of the Division in its area the personnel was spread out as far as it would go. Buildings of all kinds were taken over to be used for entertainment halls and canteens. Things moved slowly at first but when at last supplies and new workers arrived the work progressed much more satisfactorily.

Just about the time the Y. W. work was becoming well organized the Division was ordered to move into parts of the areas vacated by the 32nd and 42nd Divisions. This was really advantageous for the Fourth as it put the Division into a much better territory and into much better quarters. Tents and huts were put up by the Y. to accommodate the men in places where there was no room for a Y. Hut equipment and decorations were supplied as rapidly as possible so that all the places might have at least a little of the home atmosphere.

Entertainments were another problem, for the Division was so badly split up and many of the roads impossible to travel after dark, that following a schedule was practically impossible. But notwithstanding these difficulties a five months report shows that 306 cinema shows were given and 405 other entertainments during the same period. These figures do not include dances and stunt nights that were planned at the local huts.

It is interesting to note that during the month of February when there were only three portable cinema machines in the area forty-eight performances were given.

The Religious Department had to face the same difficulties as faced the entertainers, lack of transportation, bad roads and a large area. From February to the end of June, 413 services were held.

The Athletic work of the Division was well handled. During the spring and summer months 450 athletic events were staged. These figures include basket ball, base ball and foot ball games, track and field meets; also boxing and wrestling matches. Special attention was paid to the two last named sports with the result that good material was discovered and splendid bouts staged.

This Division began to entrain on April 25th, at the rate of four trains a day, a total of twenty-six trains, and for our women. The troops entraining at night were served hot chocolate, cakes, and cigarettes were served to each train, although the weather was rainy, and quite unpleasant. The following is a list of articles used in welfare work.

28,000 pkgs cigarettes
35,000 pkgs biscuit
1,500 lbs. cocoa
3,000  lbs. sugar
30 cases condensed milk
200 cans of jam
48 lbs. chewing tobacco
20,000 newspapers
2,000 magazines
100 games
500 Testaments and tracts
Other free distribution in this Division consisted of:

- Cocoa and biscuit twice a week at 75 points to approximately 200 men at each point.
- Doughnuts once a week at 3 points
- 400,000 sheets of paper
- 150,000 envelopes
- 50,000 newspapers
- 200 games
- 10,000 magazines
- 1,000 pieces of sheet music

42nd DIVISION.

This Division left for America early in April and was accompanied to the port by a considerable proportion of Y. M. C. A. personnel, and a large number of these continued with these troops to the States.

As the troops entrained they were served with hot chocolate, cakes, etc., and every train carrying a secretary carried also, magazines, papers and such other welfare work as was obtainable or permissible.

Secretaries not continuing to America with their troops returned to Paris for re-assignment.
